

Application Manager Online

The World #1 Definitive Media Library SaaS solution

Managing business applications and application packaging is a complicated and time consuming IT process as it needs a lot of steps, implementation techniques and development languages. The complexity of the process leaves room for a mistake which could cost you a lot of time and money.

Atea Global Services is pleased to announce that Application Manager Online is officially released! The World #1 cloud-hosted, fast, secure and user-friendly Definitive Media Library delivered to you as a subscription based SaaS solution within several minutes.

Single place for everything

Atea Application Manager Online organizes all software in a single location, including original files, installation and packaged media information. It allows System Center Configuration Manager 2012, current branch and all other deployment systems integration. Application Manager Online enables you to manage the Ordering, Discovery, User Acceptance Testing and Documentation processes, right through successful automatic deployment of the applications to your end users.

Free – up your IT resources and save money

Atea Application Manager Online is a purely cloud solution. Meaning that dedicated Windows, SQL, file storage servers can be decommissioned from your server room. Hence servers' perpetual licenses, hosting, maintenance, support, backups, disaster recovery expenses can be simply cut out from your IT budget. In replacement you get a clear model, based on a monthly subscription which allows you to plan and predict costs.

Continuously improved

The solution is being continuously developed, improved and maintained. We are using top-notch cloud technologies to secure zero down time in solution operations. Meaning that such phrases as “maintenance window”, “freeze period” and “offline” are whipped out from our vocabulary. New product version will be released continuously and seamlessly.
